

January, 2021

Dear colleagues

2020 was a special year for all of us with many challenges, which often made us feel our limits. A matter of course, such as contacts and encounters within the family, but also among colleagues in the professional environment, were suddenly no longer possible or only possible to a very limited extent. We even had to do without a lot of things, e.g. to our eagerly awaited annual congress.

Many of us had an increased workload and a lot had to be postponed. A situation that we could not have imagined a year ago and also shows us that not everything can be taken for granted. It has shown us limits, but also opened up new possibilities.

We want to look into the new association year full of confidence and strive for our goals with even more motivation and enthusiasm.

We wish you all the best in 2021, health and that we can meet again without worries.

With warm regards,

Your SPCRC Board
